ANALYSIS: (Attach a separate page if necessary)

Although CSHB 149 amends the statutes relating to methamphetamine and marijuana, the marijuana sections are the ones likely to impact the court system. Among other changes, the bill decreases from one pound to four ounces the amount of marijuana sufficient to constitute a felony offense for possession under AS 11.71.040. Under current law, possession of less than one pound of marijuana is a misdemeanor. An increase in the number of felony filings impacts the court system because felony cases must go to a grand jury, the felony trial rate is much higher than the misdemeanor trial rate and, because those convicted of felony crimes are subject to supervised probation by the Department of Corrections, the court will see more petitions to revoke probation. Although these changes will impact the court system, the extent of that impact is too speculative to support a fiscal note at this time. However, if that impact proves to be significant the court system may return to the legislature with a request for additional funding.
